VERY GOOD VERY GOOD

Sports Day

Last Monday, Joe woke up at seven forty-five. He was late for Sports Day.

His mum asked him to have breakfast before he went out. However, Joe was in a hurry, he skipped his breakfast. 'You do not have your breakfast, Joe!' said his mum. Joe replied, 'I will be late!'

He rushed to the bus stop and caught a bus to the sportground. When he arrived at the sport ground, he was starving because he had nothing to eat.

He joined the loom race. 'Ready, set, go!' said the referee. Joe tried his best to run faster. 'Should I give up?', thought Joe. He was exhausted. He was slower than other students.

Joe walked to the finish line and he ate a lot of food afterward. He lost in the race and he felt regret for not having breakfast.

He felt upset for losing the <sup>race</sup> today. He learnt that he should get up early and do not skip breakfast.

Amazing writing with great use of connectives and vocabulary!

Sports Day

Joe was late for Sports Day last Monday. Joe woke up at seven forty-five in the morning because he played computer games until 11 p.m. the night before. He shouted, 'Oh, no!' I will be late.'

Joe was ready to leave the house in five minutes. Mum asked Joe, 'Have some milk before you go!' Joe shouted, 'The bus has arrived!' Then, Joe skipped his breakfast 'and ran to the bus stop. Luckily, he caught the bus. Joe asked the driver, 'Is this bus going to the sports ground? I am in a hurry!' The bus driver answered, 'You got on the right bus. This bus is going to the sports ground.'

Joe arrived at the sports ground after thirty minutes. While Joe was watching the events on the stadium stand, he was starving. Joe thought, 'I have nothing to eat.' Meanwhile, the 100 m race was about to start. All the children were ready for the race on the track. The instructor said loudly, 'Get, set, go!' Peter was faster than Jack. Andy was slower than Jack. Andy was the slowest one. He felt dizzy because he had no energy to run. Then, he said, 'What should I do?' Suddenly, the P.E. teacher came close to Joe and said, 'Do it! What are you waiting for? The goal is ahead.' Joe tried his best to reach the finish line. He recognized that if you insist, you will succeed. If you give up, you will never succeed.

Today was a good lesson for Joe. Next time, he will make sure that he has enough sleep the night before and has a good breakfast on Sports Day.

You added a lot of interesting dialogue in your writing. You provided many details to the main ideas. I love reading your writing very much! Excellent work!

Sports Day

Joe was late for Sports Day last Monday. He woke up at seven forty-five in the morning. His mum said 'you should have breakfast.' Joe shouted, 'I am in a hurry to go to the sports ground.' So he skipped his breakfast.

Joe rushed to the bus stop and caught the bus to the sports ground. When he arrived at the sports ground, he was starving and had nothing to eat. He thought he should take the breakfast in the morning.

It was time for 100m race, Joe joined the race. He ran and ran. The referee yelled, Joe was slower than the others. Joe felt dizzy, he could not run anymore and wanted to give up.

At last, Joe finished the race, but he lost in the race. He was very upset. He learned that he should eat the breakfast every day and sleep early every night.
