U.5 A Traffic Accident

Last Saturday, Hannah and her family went to visit her grandma since it was her grandma's birthday. They set off early in the morning. They were thrilled. However, the weather was poor. It was raining cats and dogs.

On the way, the sky was dark and the roads were flooded. They were worried because the black rainstorm warning signal was issued.

After a while, the rain got heavier and heavier. All of sudden, mud and rock fell from the side of a hill. They screamed in horror. Mom exclaimed, "Landslide! Watch out!" It was too late as their car ^{was} buried in mud.

Luckily, another driver behind us called the police. Soon, an ambulance arrived and they got Hannah out of the wreckage. However, her parents were trapped. Firefighters tried to rescue her parents, but in vain. Hannah was taken to hospital first. On the way to the hospital, she was worried about her parents.

Later, ^{Hannah} Hannah and parents reunited at hospital. Luckily, the ^(P) were not seriously injured and their condition ^{was} stable. Hannah was happy to see her parent again. After this near-death experience, they learnt the importance of checking ^(P) the weather forecast before going out.

A Traffic Accident

Last Saturday, something ^{*}appalling happened to my best friend, Hannah, and her parents. It was unbelievable!

That day, Hannah and her parents went to visit her grandparents since it was her grandfather's birthday.

Her dad said, 'We will drive there as fast as possible since the birthday ^{celebration is} starting! Hurry up!' Before they went out, Hannah checked the weather forecast. 'Oh no!

The black rainstorm, and the landslide ^{signal} ^{warning} is issued!', cried Hannah. However, her parents ignored her like she was transparent. She felt tremendously ^{*}uneasy and worried.

After a while, when her dad was driving carefully, the sky turned as black as coal and it started to downpour. The lightning's sound was like many people were beating the drums using all their might. 'The black rainstorm and landslide are issued! Remember to stay at home safely.', said the radio.

'Oh no! We are in a troublesome situation! We should have stayed at home!' cried Mom. 'It's not the time to regret!' shouted Dad and he drove as fast as the wind.

Just then, when they were driving through Kingsley Street, a landslide happened suddenly. Mud and rocks fell down and trapped the car. Hannah and her parents were panicking. 'Arrrgh! This is the worst day of my life!" said ^(P) Dad. Then, her arm started to bleed non-stop like a fountain. She was in pain.

Fortunately, a taxi driver saw what happened called the firemen and the ambulance hurriedly.

Afterwards, the firemen came and ^{(Sp) (dig)} digged out the mud and stone, quickly, ^{(P) They} and broke their car window to save them. Hannah was first one to be saved since she was injured severely. 'Will I be okay?' ^(P) asked Hannah.

The doctor, ^{on the ambulance} replied, 'Yes, you do not have to be worried about that.' ^(P) (1)

After a few hours, Hannah woke up and found
